TECHNOLOGIES

CARBON

Interwoven carbon layers that allow the player to hit with +/- power. The response of the racket is immediate and powerful depending on the various rigidities. It is important to find the right compromise between the different measures of carbon 3-12-18, because measures and interweavings significantly change a performance.

CARBON STRUCTURE

The structure of the racket is made of a special carbon fiber that is resistant to impact and flexible enough to not give the racket the vibrating effect that penalizes its use. The structure is subjected to various tests and is formed with special resins.

CARBON SILVER

A new high tech carbon mixed with carbon Silver fibers, designed for an advanced level.

DIAMOND STRUCTURE

The diamond structure is certainly the most advanced on the market, suitable for expert players who know how to best manage the touch of the ball. On this type of racket the weight is not central, but shifted towards the tip. This causes an "unbalance" of the racket towards the top, capable of maximizing the force used in the shot.

MIXED HOLES TECHNOLOGY

The MIXED HOLES drilling is designed to have a greater surface area in the center of the racket, giving greater solidity to the impact. The special tested drilling allows the passage of air in greater quantities on the outside of the racket, making it faster and more comfortable in torsional movements. On the central part where the drilling is smaller, there is greater rigidity in the advancement of the plate, thus making the racket more stable.

3 LEVEL LAYERS

Our most complex and technologically advanced racket plate. Compared to traditional plates this version is composed of 3 layers that assist each other in absorbing blows and the resulting response.

BULL HOLES

The special Bull Holes drilling gives greater solidity on impact and allows the passage of air on the outside, for greater speed.

EVA BLACK

EVA BLACK rubber guarantees a longer life of the racket over time. It gives more power to our attack shots and greater control of the shot.

FIBERGLASS

The racket surface is made of fiberglass.

PREDATOR SYSTEM

The innovative Predator system was studied and developed by Heroe's for an incredible absorption of vibrations towards the handle and also guarantees greater stability of the plate.

HEXA SYSTEM

The first system used by Heroe's to increase spin. A special sheet with hexagons to roughen the plate and promote a good grip on the ball.

Y-SYSTEM

A special sheet added externally roughens the racket to promote spin. The fan shape promotes the right grip on the ball, significantly increasing its rotation.
